Principal's Message

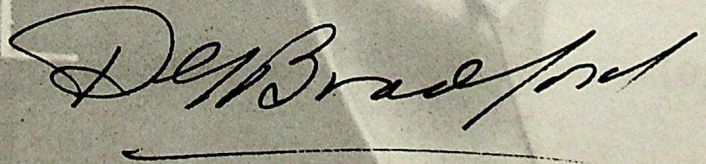

The year 1979-80 is indelibly imprinted in my mind as one of the most interesting and exciting that I have had the good fortune to experience in a long while.

It has been a year of many new kinds of happenings for me, which included entering a new school, which while similar to most others, has indeed a character that is quite unique. That character, that spirit is the result of the collective efforts of a student population bent on making Bonnie Doon a great place to learn and an interesting school to attend.

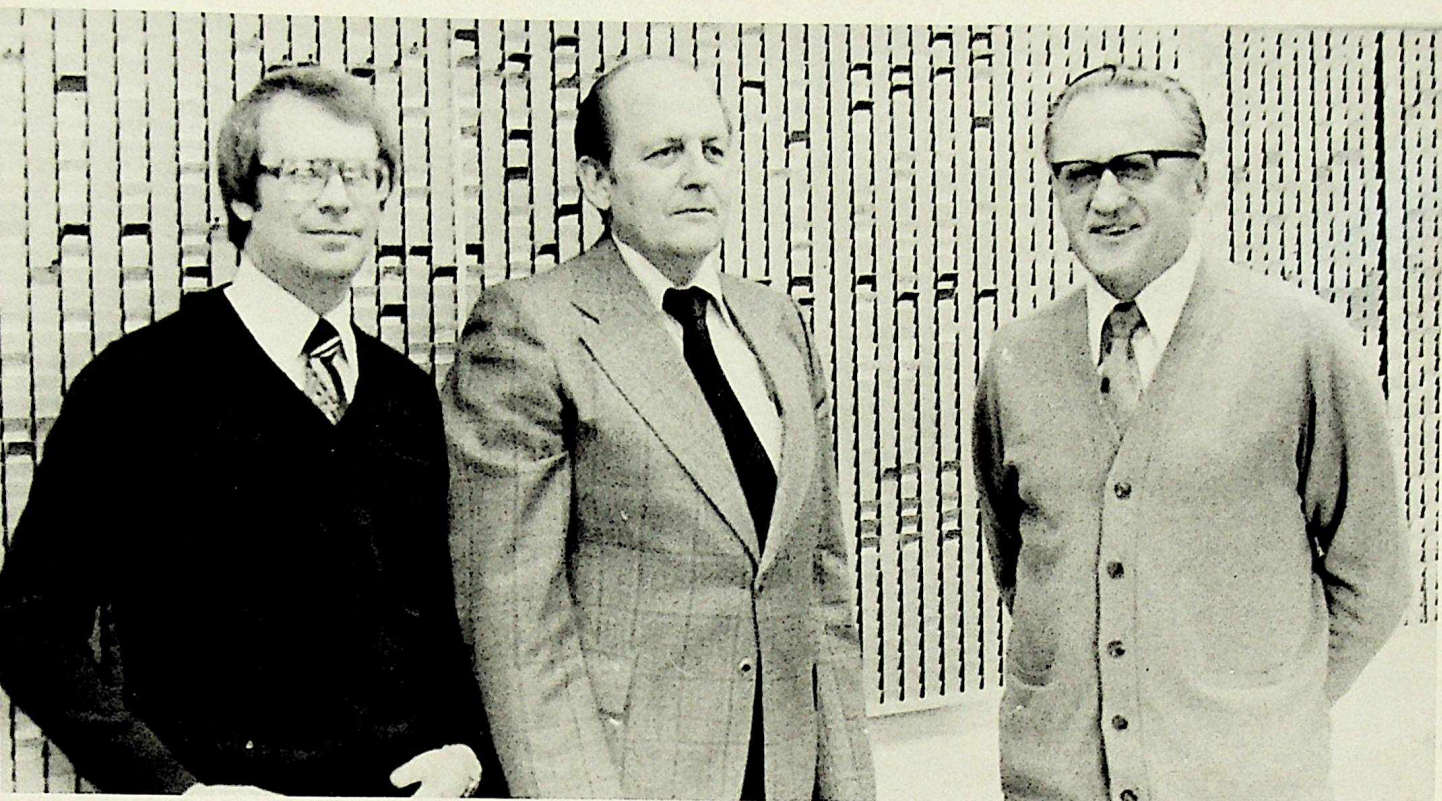

This is born out by the combination of sound academic achievement mixed with an equally high level of student participation in activities which, has resulted in an exceptional quality of student life and the concomitant healthy spirit that pervades the atmosphere at Bonnie Doon.

At the end of the school year, some of you will be leaving Bonnie taking with you the substance of learning and some of the spirit which you helped create. Rest assured; others will answer the challenge and build upon the host of healthy traditions; partly a legacy left by the students of 1979-80.

It is indeed the quality of student life that spells out the uniqueness and makes one proud to be associated with Bonnie Doon.

President's Message

The 1979-80 school year was a year of change. With the change of Principals from Mr. Klufas to Mr. Bradford and the change of the Students' Union Advisors from Mr. Gainer to Mrs. Heppell. Even with these changes, I think this has been a very successful year.

On behalf of the Students' Union, I would like to thank Mr. Bradford and Mrs. Heppell for all the help they have been throughout the year. I would also like to thank anyone in the school who has participated in any way with the Students' Union. For it is the people who participate that make everything work.

THANKS!

The Ukrainian dancers of Bonnie Doon Composite High School was formed in September of 1979. They met regularly on Tuesdays and Thursdays for noon hour rehearsals. They danced at the Christmas concert and were invited by the music department to dance in Disneyland. Both the Concert Band and the Swing Choir provided the music for their dancing. It was a great honour for them to be able to dance to live music. The Grad Tea was another spot on their list of performances. For a beginning group, the Dancers had a very busy and prosperous year. A special thanks to Mrs. Bridges for all her help.

Sports Banquet:

The highlight of our athletes season.

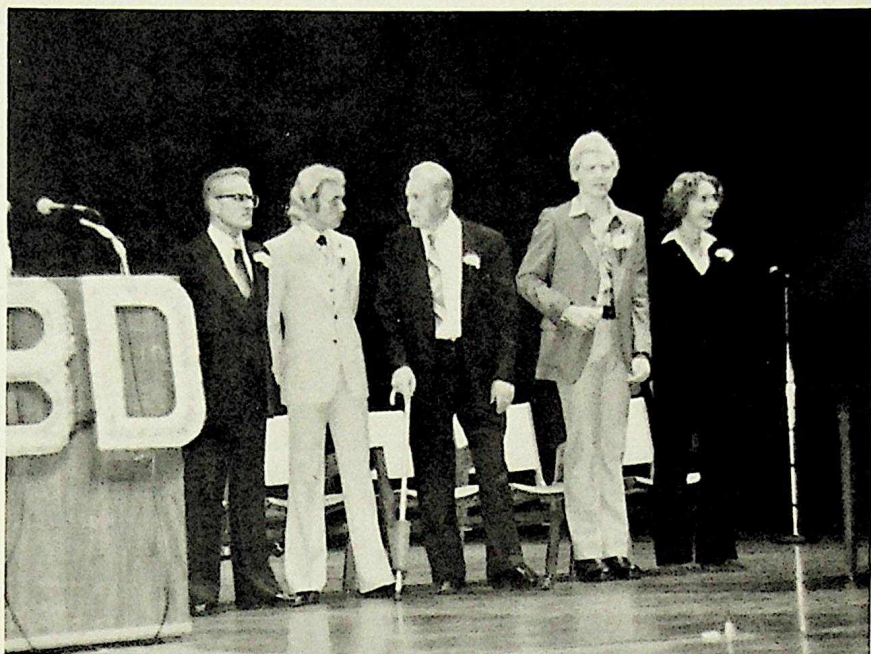

A smash hit called KIND LADY was yet another happening at B.D. this year. The B.D. band and choir even took part in this event.

Graduation Night:

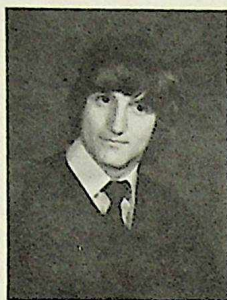

A special time for all those who took part.

Let us go forth into this vast world we live in without fear.
Know that the knowledge we have gained those few short years will guide us into a clear future.
Let us be wise in our decisions and choose for ourselves
the road that will lead us to our destinations.
Let nothing lead us astray from our goals but allow us to succeed in whatever we decide to do.
And may, you my friends be blessed with health, harmony, and happiness.

Katherine Walton

Ladies and Gentlemen:

Graduation is a special event. It has different meanings to different individuals. To teachers, graduation brings the satisfaction of assisting the education of individuals who will control this nation's destiny. To parents, graduation brings the satisfaction of knowing that their patience and hard work was worthwhile. To graduands, graduation is something more.

A little over twelve years ago, it was 1967. Canadians were celebrating Canada's first 100 years and were looking onward to the next 100 years. In September of 1967, most of us went through the doors of a school for the first time. 1967 marked a new beginning for our country and ourselves.

Similarly, 1980 marks a new beginning. We are looking towards the new decade with hope and optimism. The Arts, sports, economics, and politics are entering a new era. Unforgettable leaders, such as John Diefenbaker, Lester Pearson, Tim Horton and Roberta Clements, made the headlines in 1967. These great individuals are gone, but the memory of their actions in and beyond the line of duty remain. Their departures precipitated new beginnings. Tonight, we begin a new way of life. We must decide where we are going, how we are going, how we are going to get there, and what are we going to do upon arrival.

Tonight also symbolizes an end to an era. No longer will we attend Bonnie Doon and work within its confines. Unfortunately, tonight may be the last time to see friends we have made during the last twelve years as our paths may never cross again. Our high school life will only live in our memories. With the passing of time, new friendships will develop, but they will probably not be as sentimental as those made at B.D.

Whether tonight is considered as a new beginning or an end to an era, we will have fond memories of graduation. Tonight each graduand will be in the spotlight. In the years to come, some of the class will gain public recognition, while others will be content without it.

The Class of '80 must express itself to the fullest, control its destiny, and leave its mark on this great nation. Tonight we, the students of Bonnie Doon, are showing pride in our past accomplishments; tomorrow we must achieve in the following words: "I believe in the right of the individual to make his best in life. I have nothing but contempt for those who regard profits as dangerous. Without them there is no advance, nor would there be the free society that is ours."

To the Class of '80, the best of luck to each of the graduands, do not forget who your friends are, and may you accomplish all your goals with happiness and gain satisfaction.

Brian Stein

Remember, the year was 1977. The mature, smartly-dressed, level-headed adults that sit before me tonight were then just a bunch of sniveling little fifteen year olds. As they entered the last and most important phase of their mandatory education, many changes in their life occurred and some were even good. We now had night dances, a cafeteria, no more detentions and hundreds of new mature, luscious females behind every corner. And vice versa. But astonishingly enough, those things seemed insignificant, as there was only one thing on our minds, survival. To survive in this new world of cars, smoking areas and big people, our characters had to make an adjustment and it did as fear, suspicion, doubt and deception took over where carefree and trusting left off. We became cunning and witty. We weren't about to show how brave we were by doing anything as stupid as asking for directions or walking the middle of those dungeon-like corridors. Unfortunately, after just a few days many of the weak started to crack. Just when most of the grade ten population were looking into correspondence a rumor was spreading that the impossible had happened. Frosh, if I dare say it, had been cancelled. Yes, and in no time, it became official when our beloved leader gave one of his always memorable announcements. We were reprieved! Of course, to our bewilderment, it soon became apparent that a lot of grade twelves had waited a long time for this moment and were not to be short-changed.

But, to our disbelief, we did survive. In fact, a new powerful sensation started to take effect upon us. Pride, in our school and of its students. The allegiance to each of our own respected junior high's started to deteriorate and we even began to befriend some of those terrible rivals of the year before. Right about this point, our powerful green and gold machine was about to make its first start on the gridiron and high school finally became fun for the new eager set of rookie fans.

At Bonnie Doon sports have always been a way of life and during our stay they have ruled ours. All sports have fared very well and we consistently won more than we lost. However, there always seemed to be one problem. I don't want to imply that our team choked in the big ones but it does seem that we were destined to be the eternal bridesmaid. Our football team for example. Year number one it was to Clarke Stadium and the final. Year number two it was to Clarke Stadium and the final. Finally came our senior year and things were bound to be different. And they were. This time we didn't make it to the finals. Who wants to play football in November anyway? Losing builds character too. Well if that's true, Bonnie Doon students must be pillars of strength, overflowing with intestinal fortitude. Yes, we know what the agony of defeat is all about for our football team was not the only team to come up just short. Oh no, we've also been present when our boys' volleyball team went all the way to the finals last year, and then again this year. Unfortunately, both times they didn't win the final, didn't become City champs and didn't get totally bombed in the locker room later on. Then there was our boys' basketball team, they lost too but it didn't really matter as basketball had one of its most enjoyable seasons at Bonnie Doon, highlighted with many colorful memories. Our girls' teams also admirably upheld our school's beleaguered tradition as both our volleyball and basketball teams were stopped in the quarter finals this past season.

Our teams may have experienced a lot of bad luck but there was one area where Bonnie Doon was head and shoulders above the rest. Up in the stands our fans were all-stars as they out-numbered, out-cheered and out-guzzled our competition without falter. Who will ever forget memories like being packaged together with a hundred stumbling schoolmates, armed with borrowed garbage can lids, chanting encouraging phrases like "Let's wail on these stains"? School spirit like this is hard to find.

However, there is more to the Bonnie Doon graduate than first meets the eye. Beyond that loud, offensive and sometimes primitive exterior lies another side of his character; polished, refined and well-bred. It is this side that has made such school groups as the Stage Band, the choir and the drama department respected throughout the free world. Well, almost! During the past three years our fine arts department has given us many fine performances and accomplishments. Our stage band, for example, had the privilege of representing our school in Disneyland last year and were so well received that they were asked back again this year. Our aspiring actors and actresses through a lot of hard work of their own treated us to many productions, such as "Dames At Sea", "The Matchmaker", "Spreading the News", "The Valiant", and "Kind Lady". This year, another school club also left its mark, which was the first time in Bonnie Doon's history that it had done so. Led by the brilliance of Brian and Dave, our Reach for the Top team made it to the Northern Alberta Finals.

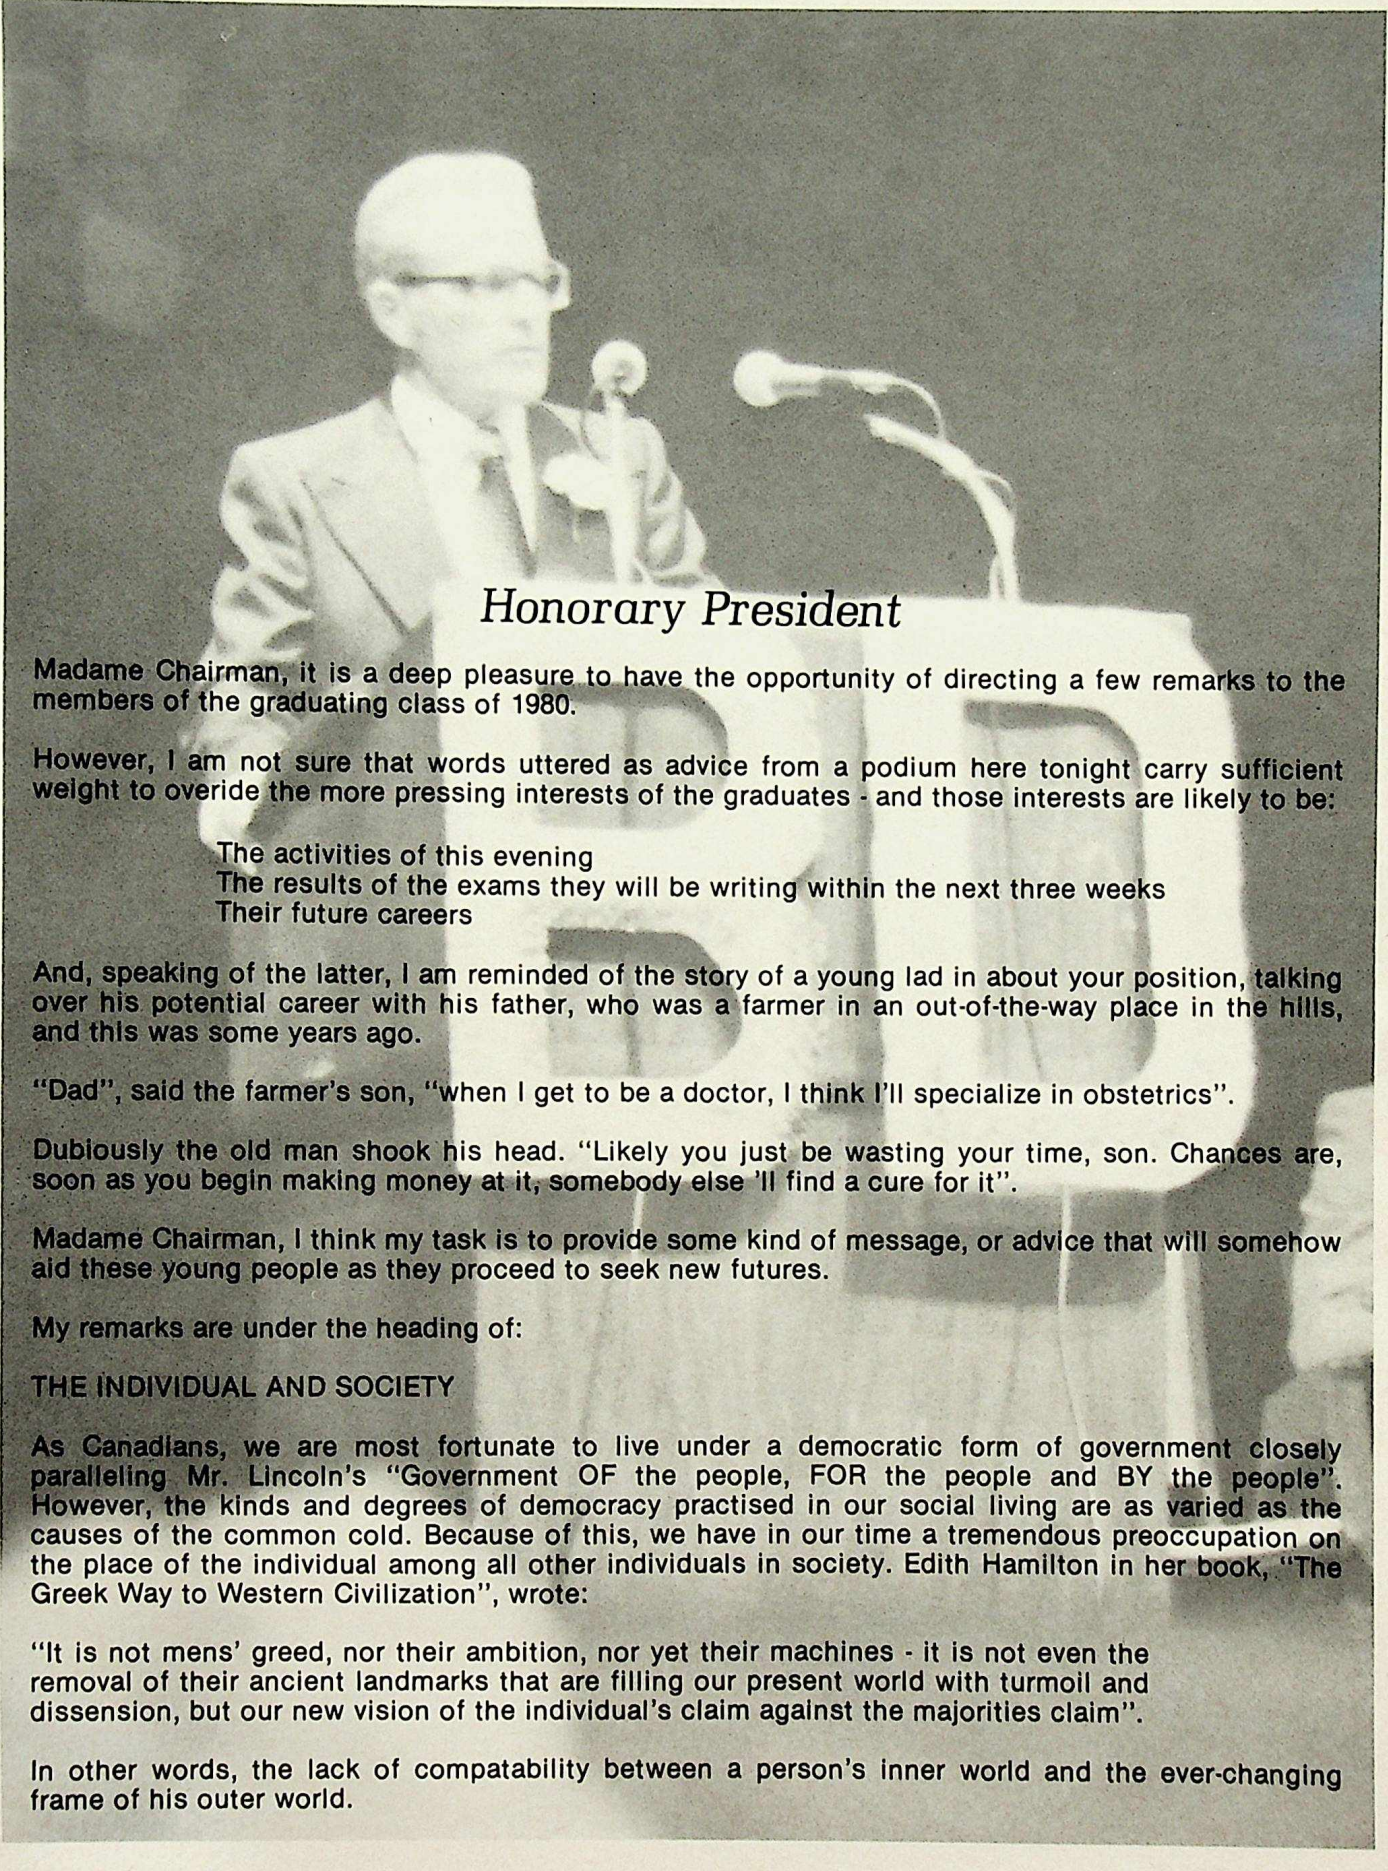

B.D. is definitely a class operation, and the accomplishments of our teams and clubs which have highlighted our high school years have brought a great deal of esteem to our school. Although, ironically, they are not the memories that will be recollected in years to come. No, instead, we will remember things like that lightning-quick cane, those two guys named Malmac, Mayfair on hot summer days, Rainbow Valley on cold autumn nights and we may even remember electing that funny guy with the beard as our President. We will think of our first few days in grade twelve when on the minds of everyone were such questions as "Can this Mr. Bradford speak English?", "Why is it so bright in here?" and "Is this Turko guy really a cop?"

We will also remember those fine teachers and counsellors who gave so much of themselves to us. Their work may have gone unnoticed and seemingly unappreciated but in years to come when some of their monotonous lessons show their value, they will be thought of.

Before I must sit down, I would just like to say a few words directly to my fellow graduands. Tonight's the biggie. We've waited a long time for this day so don't blow it. Break all the rules. If you've always wanted to try something, tonight's the night to do it. Go out and have fun at any cost. And don't worry about Mom and Dad because they know what they did the night they graduated. Make tonight the best memory of all.

Thank you, and to Mr. Bradford,
Merci beaucoup.

Donald Lucky

Honorary President

Madame Chairman, it is a deep pleasure to have the opportunity of directing a few remarks to the members of the graduating class of 1980.

However, I am not sure that words uttered as advice from a podium here tonight carry sufficient weight to override the more pressing interests of the graduates - and those interests are likely to be:

The activities of this evening
The results of the exams they will be writing within the next three weeks
Their future careers

And, speaking of the latter, I am reminded of the story of a young lad in about your position, talking over his potential career with his father, who was a farmer in an out-of-the-way place in the hills, and this was some years ago.

"Dad", said the farmer's son, "when I get to be a doctor, I think I'll specialize in obstetrics".

Dubiously the old man shook his head. "Likely you just be wasting your time, son. Chances are, soon as you begin making money at it, somebody else 'll find a cure for it".

Madame Chairman, I think my task is to provide some kind of message, or advice that will somehow aid these young people as they proceed to seek new futures.

My remarks are under the heading of:

THE INDIVIDUAL AND SOCIETY

As Canadians, we are most fortunate to live under a democratic form of government closely paralleling Mr. Lincoln's "Government OF the people, FOR the people and BY the people". However, the kinds and degrees of democracy practised in our social living are as varied as the causes of the common cold. Because of this, we have in our time a tremendous preoccupation on the place of the individual among all other individuals in society. Edith Hamilton in her book, "The Greek Way to Western Civilization", wrote:

"It is not mens' greed, nor their ambition, nor yet their machines - it is not even the removal of their ancient landmarks that are filling our present world with turmoil and dissension, but our new vision of the individual's claim against the majorities claim".

In other words, the lack of compatability between a person's inner world and the ever-changing frame of his outer world.

It is unquestionable that not only is each of you different and unique, but also a "never-to-be-repeated phenomena". However, this individualism must be blended into a compatibility with all other members of your association.

Darwin noted "that success in the game of life, and therefore survival, is often most promoted by the assistance of others".

I suggest to you that right now there may be an overemphasis on the pronoun "I" and the "RIGHTS OF I" without a balancing of the equation of "I" with the other pronoun "we". There is a definite danger that the pronoun "I" could be a most selfish and narrow-minded individual "RIGHTS" are more important than his group responsibilities. No man can live unto himself without others going in to, or having to pay him. Pronoun "I" as an individual today can only be the sum total of all that has gone on between him and other human beings all his life. He is responsible for obeying all the laws and mores that apply to the whole of which he is a part. How can you enjoy the fringe benefits in a union contract if you have never joined the union?

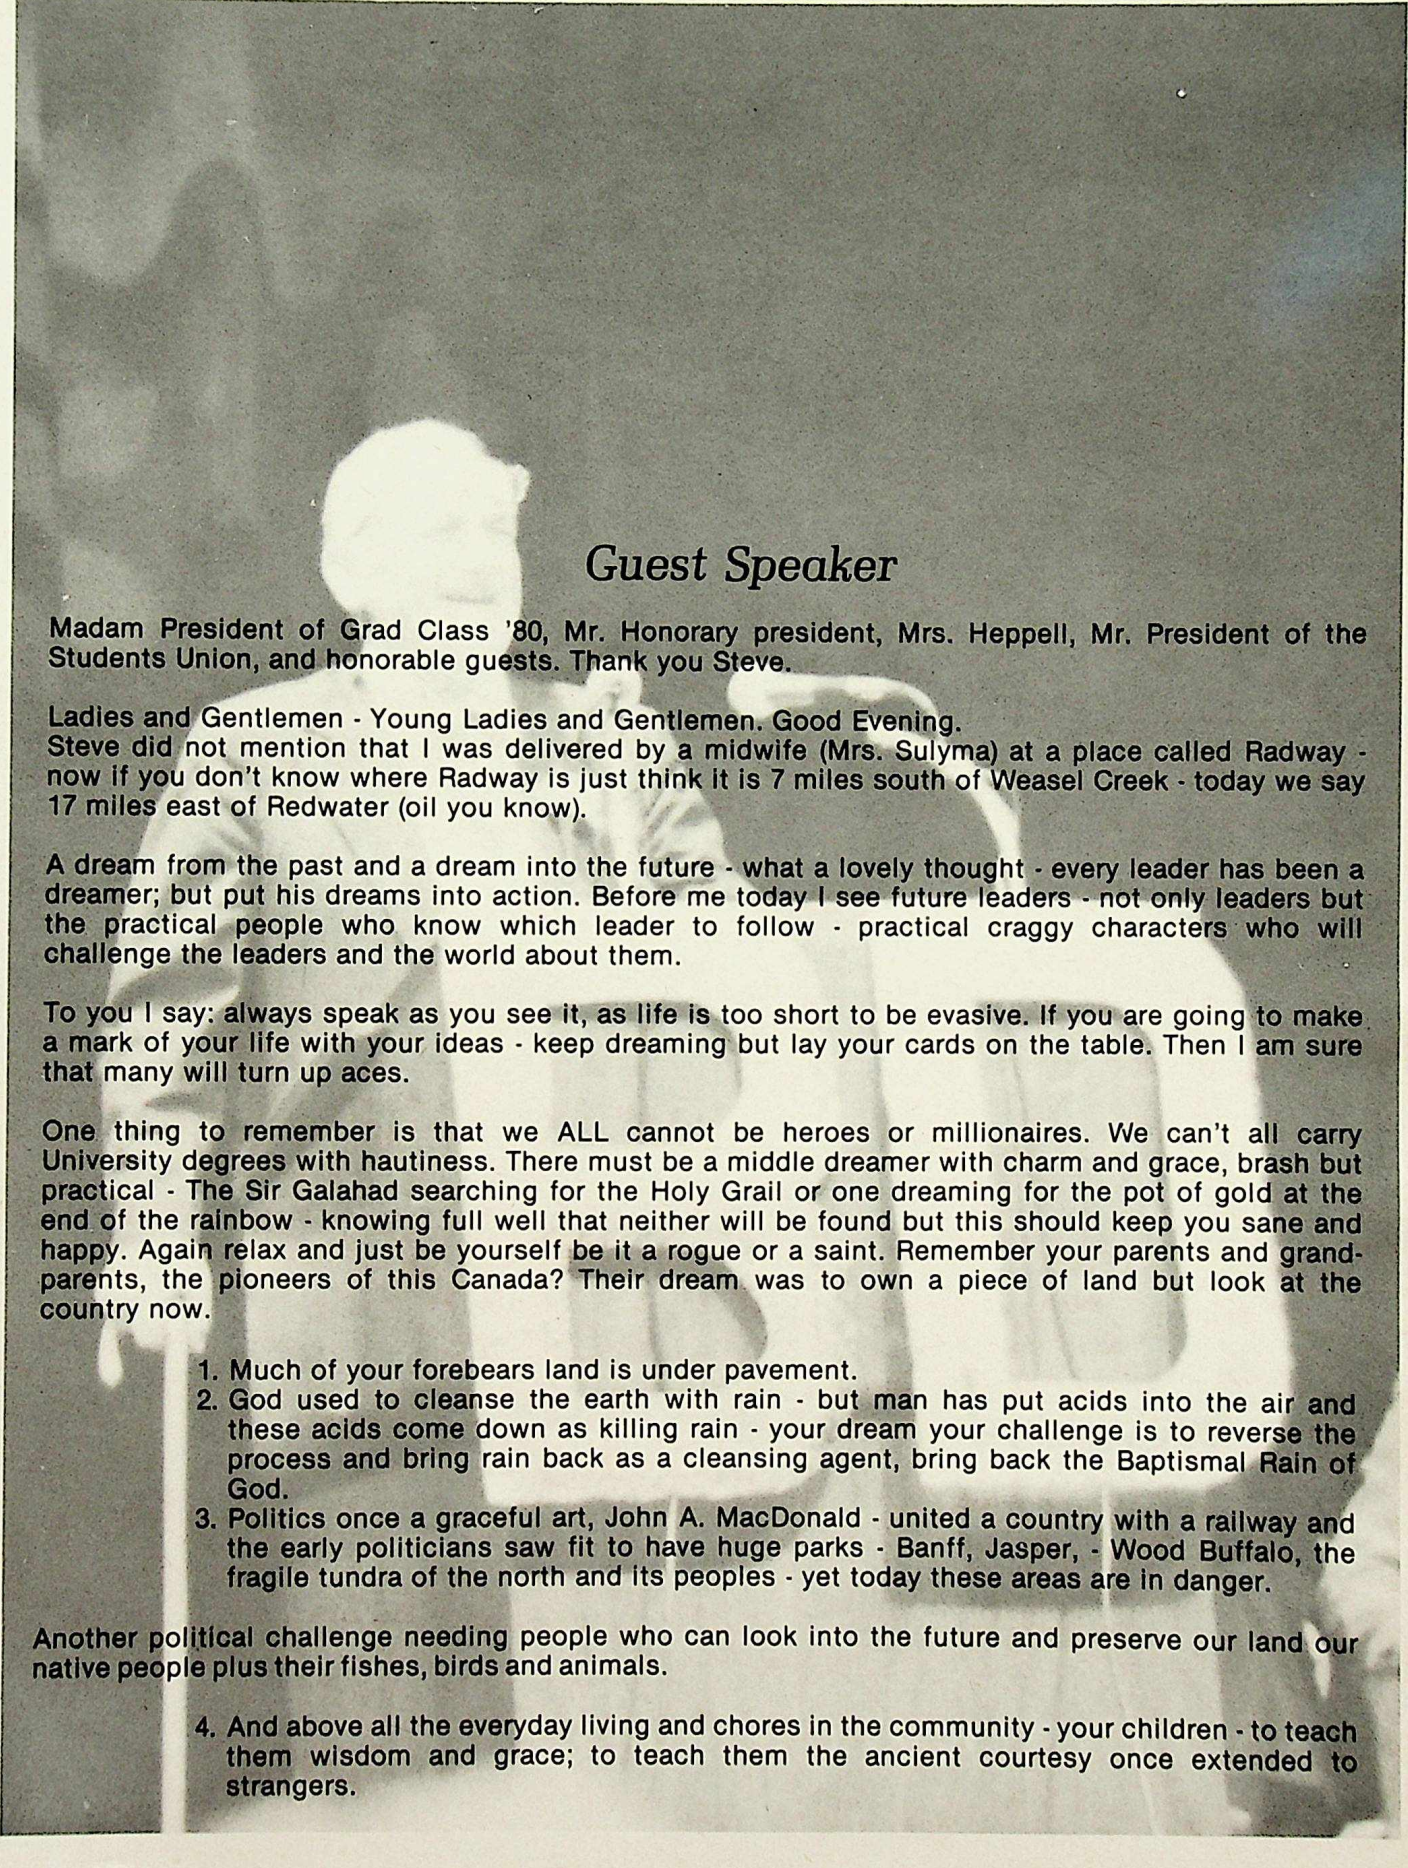

Each of you has most unique talents and powers that should never be melted down in the collectivist pot of a managed society. On the other hand, however, 23 million Canadian individualists could create much more chaos than we presently have. You must be able to live with yourself and others without losing your individualism but also without forcing your "RIGHTS" on your society. When individual rights are not tempered with good wishes, we will suffer a society that, although radically different, will not satisfy mankind any more than the "L'état, c'est moi" slogan of Louis XIV or the philosophy of Hitler's group - that the individual must be completely subordinated to the good of the state.

GRADUATES - I leave with you a decision to be made which will solve the riddle: How can the beauty and uniqueness of each of you be made compatible with the collective "all of you" with a final result that our world may be enhanced and made better by your individual and total participation?

My most sincere and heartiest congratulations are extended to each of you on your graduation, and remember that:

"Any person whose problems are all behind him in June - is probably the school bus driver".

Guest Speaker

Madam President of Grad Class '80, Mr. Honorary president, Mrs. Heppell, Mr. President of the Students Union, and honorable guests. Thank you Steve.

Ladies and Gentlemen - Young Ladies and Gentlemen. Good Evening.

Steve did not mention that I was delivered by a midwife (Mrs. Sulyma) at a place called Radway - now if you don't know where Radway is just think it is 7 miles south of Weasel Creek - today we say 17 miles east of Redwater (oil you know).

A dream from the past and a dream into the future - what a lovely thought - every leader has been a dreamer; but put his dreams into action. Before me today I see future leaders - not only leaders but the practical people who know which leader to follow - practical craggy characters who will challenge the leaders and the world about them.

To you I say: always speak as you see it, as life is too short to be evasive. If you are going to make a mark of your life with your ideas - keep dreaming but lay your cards on the table. Then I am sure that many will turn up aces.

One thing to remember is that we ALL cannot be heroes or millionaires. We can't all carry University degrees with hautiness. There must be a middle dreamer with charm and grace, brash but practical - The Sir Galahad searching for the Holy Grail or one dreaming for the pot of gold at the end of the rainbow - knowing full well that neither will be found but this should keep you sane and happy. Again relax and just be yourself be it a rogue or a saint. Remember your parents and grandparents, the pioneers of this Canada? Their dream was to own a piece of land but look at the country now.

1. Much of your forebears land is under pavement.
2. God used to cleanse the earth with rain - but man has put acids into the air and these acids come down as killing rain - your dream your challenge is to reverse the process and bring rain back as a cleansing agent, bring back the Baptismal Rain of God.
3. Politics once a graceful art, John A. MacDonald - united a country with a railway and the early politicians saw fit to have huge parks - Banff, Jasper, - Wood Buffalo, the fragile tundra of the north and its peoples - yet today these areas are in danger.

Another political challenge needing people who can look into the future and preserve our land our native people plus their fishes, birds and animals.

4. And above all the everyday living and chores in the community - your children - to teach them wisdom and grace; to teach them the ancient courtesy once extended to strangers.

This alone is a challenge that requires dreams and the very practical approach to; just living; PERHAPS, the GREATEST CHALLENGE OF THEM ALL - take destiny into your own hands - nature's bounty - this requires mystery of self and quiet happiness.

Even now I as a silver-haired man, wait the same youthful emotion for the first gleam of that great dream which will always be searched for - it I add to this history; the dream of the mythical and legendary - I can sleep a tranquil sleep - effortless, satisfying with a primitive contented soul.

At this point I will allow you to join with me in walking through the garden of my soul.

Would the graduands please stand and join me in a prayer - "Great Spirit of Mankind, Lord of the Winds, fires and wonders of this good earth, hear us.

1. Give us imagination because imagination is like water on parched ground; constantly seeking cracks that will take it down into the soil.
2. Teach us not to follow the crowd when everyone is getting on the bandwagon - teach us to listen to all, but teach us also to filter everything we hear on the screen of truth and take only the good that comes through.
3. Eternal God our Judge and our Redeemer, teach us how to laugh when we are sad, teach us that there is no shame in tears and above all, teach us that there can be glory in failure despair as well as in success.
4. Master of the Universe, teach us always to have faith in ourselves. Because then and only then will we have sublime faith in mankind."

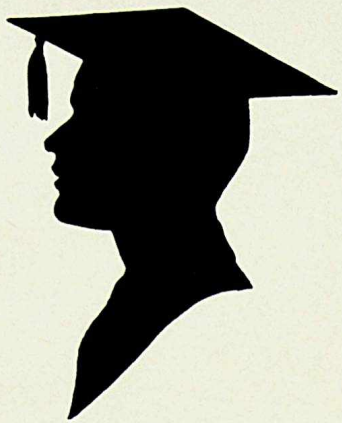

AMEN.

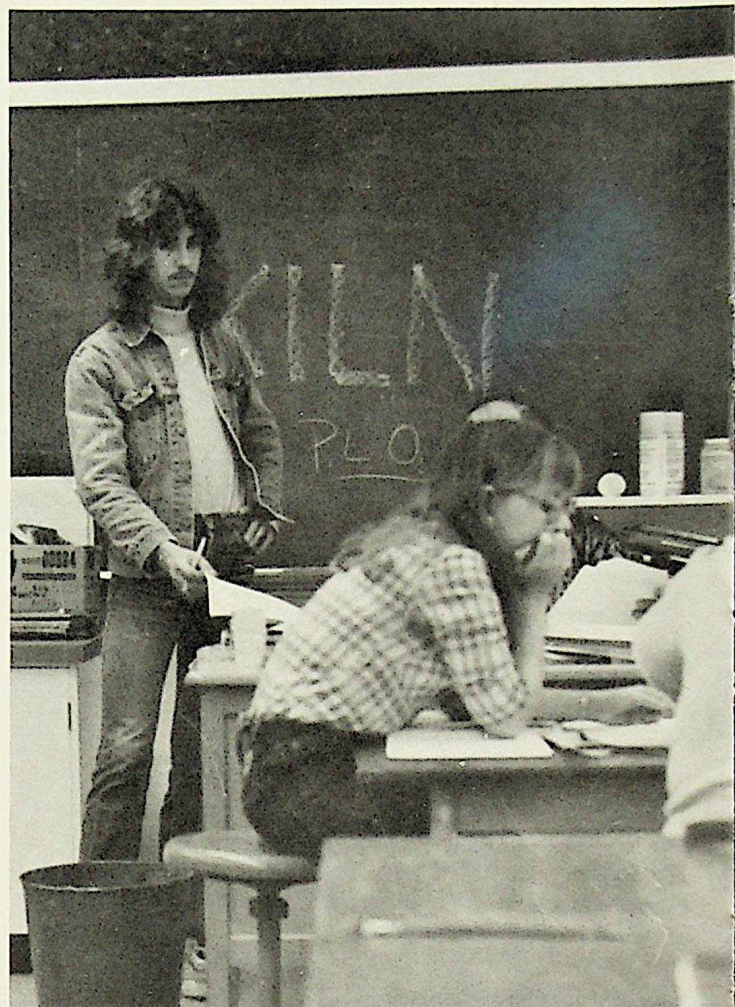

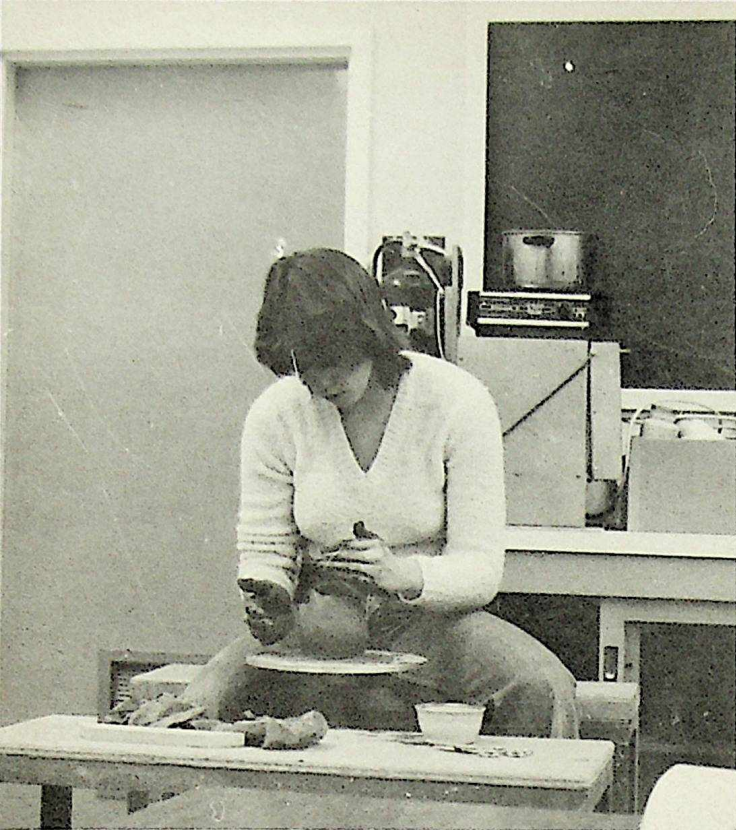

Please sit down. I would like to close with:

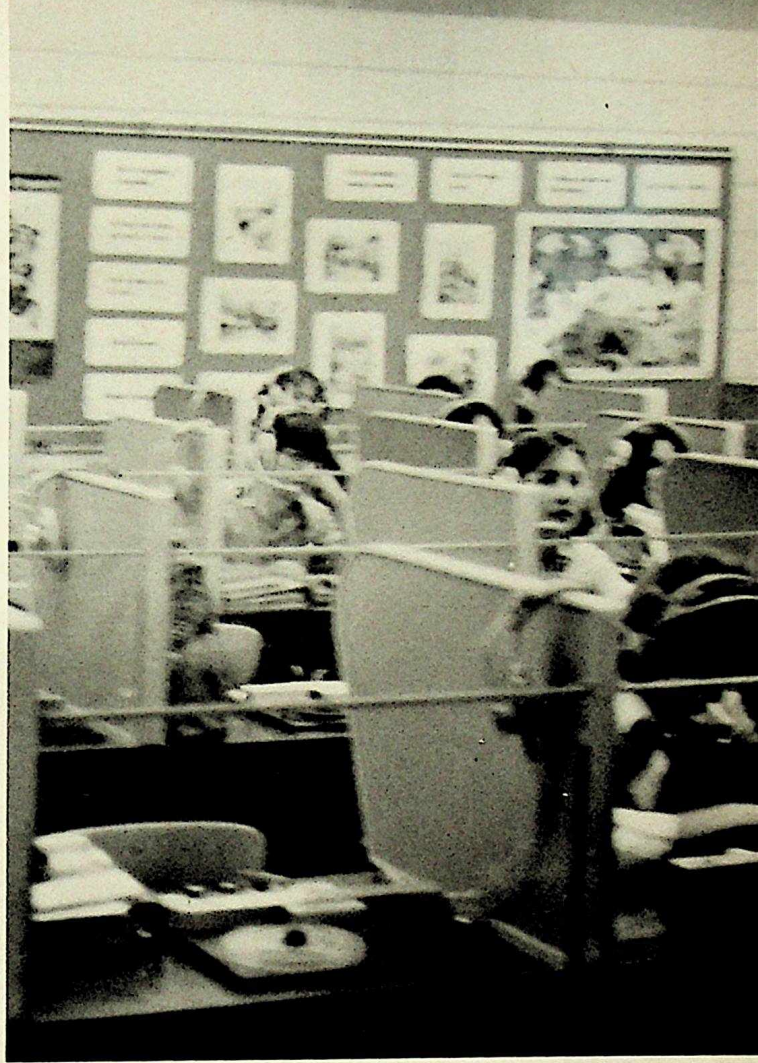

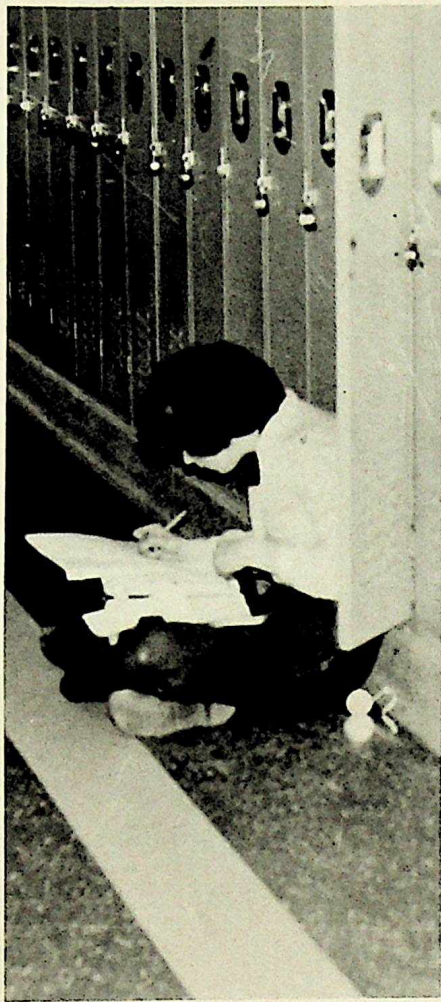

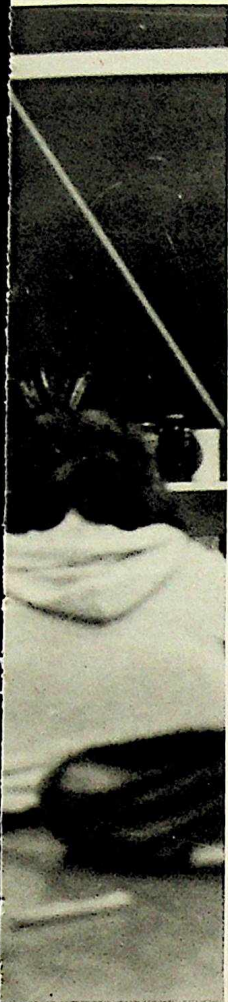

A DREAM IS A SMALL HIDDEN DOOR IN THE DEEPEST AND THE MOST INTIMATE SANCTUARY OF THE SOUL.

Each of you has a destiny - each of you has a role and of course to respect the past - convince the present and enlarge the future - maintain grace under pressure - be decisive without being arrogant - Respect ideas - and act on them. Then I am sure you will fulfill that challenge.

Ladies and Gentlemen, on behalf of my wife Anne and myself, a humble Thank You and may God Bless you all.

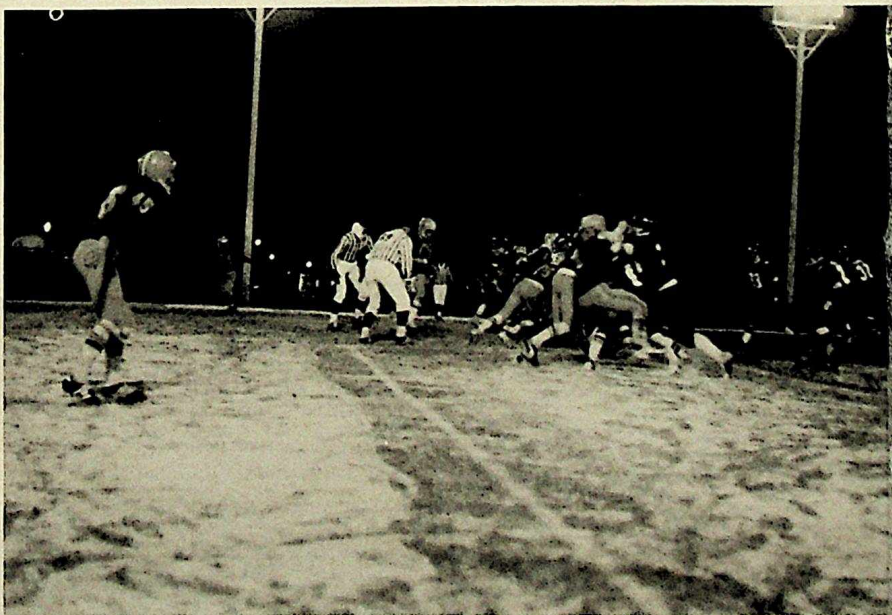

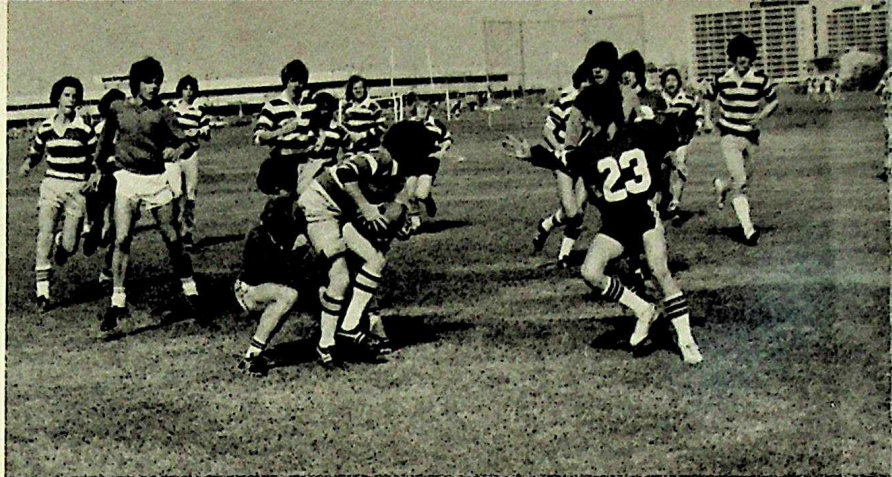

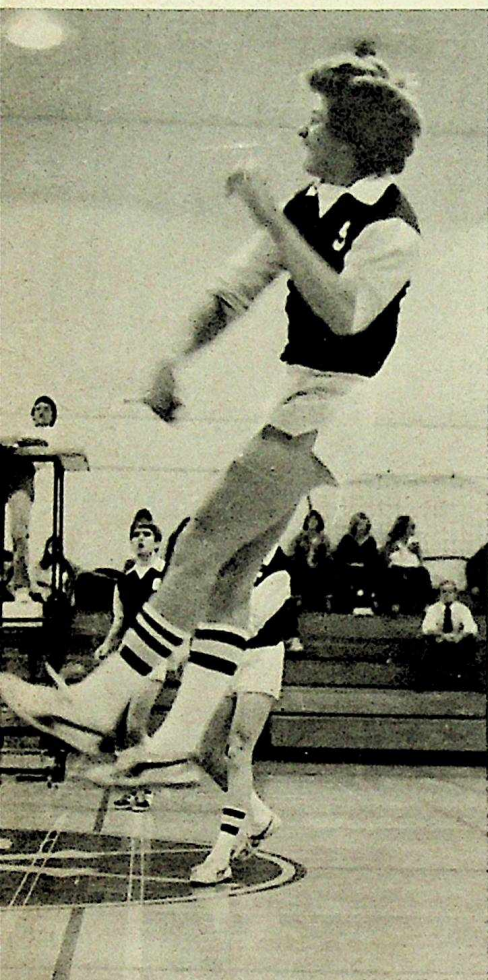

Jack, Darling:
Our school days will soon be coming to an end! Jack will be a great worker with you. He will be a great worker with you.
Keep us in touch. Don't ever forget us. Love and keep in touch.
Forever,
William Thompson.

A black and white photograph of a rugby player from behind. The player is wearing a light-colored jersey with dark horizontal stripes on the sleeves and dark socks with three horizontal stripes. The back of the jersey has handwritten text in dark ink. The player is standing on a grassy field, and a rugby ball is visible on the ground to the right.
